should not feel any special indications that digestion is going on. If you do, you have indigestion, which means not-digestion. This may be the beginning of so many dangerous diseases, that it is usest to take it in hand as once and treat it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. For you know that indigestion makes poison, which causes pain and sickness. And that Shaker Digestive Cordial helps digestion and cures indiges-tion. Shaker Digestion Cordial does this by providing the digestive materials in which the sick stomach is wanting. It also tones up and strengthens the dig ave organs and makes them perfectly nealthy. This is the rationale of its meth

Town Council Meeting. Gettysburg's Borough Conneil me last Tuesday evening in regular monthly chair. The other members present were Messrs. Lightner, Deatrick, Stock. Trexel, Silaby Manufacturing Co; as they had furnished the engine they would be able to give information on the subject. They, however, wanted $200 for a heater. Mr. Troxel said that the Property Committee had not yet measured the amount of hose on hand but would do so as soon as they could get together. He thought it might be advisable to empower the committee to act, so that new hose could be purchased.

Burgess McCammon called attention to the 250 ft. of hose which were purchased about sixteen years ago and which he togeth would bring something when sold.

Mr. Thomas' non to the engine hones, which was sounded at 9.40. The meningle house had soon had the engine and soon had the engine hones, with 1,000 feet of hose, at the W. M. Some unavoidable delay was experienced in getting a gondola car ready to load the apparatus, but in a comparatively short into this work had been completed, and at 10:13 the company, under the charge of foreman W. H. Long, started on the trip to Abbottstown, which place was reached at 10:35, a delay of 3 minutes being experienced about sixteen years ago and which he thought would bring something when sold.

Mr. Thomas' none for the company quickly responded, and soon had the engine hones carriage, with 1,000 feet of hose, at the W. M. Some unavoidable delay was experienced at 10:13 the company, under the charge of foreman W. H. Long, started on the trip to Abbottstown, which place was reached at 10:35, a delay of 3 minutes being experienced at 1 feet of hose.

Icing and Decorating Cakes. BY MARION WASHBURN.

With a little care, and a little practice, cakes may be iced and decorated at home as well as at the confectioner's. To do the work successfully, a few general ber bag, with graduated nozzle, for howering and dot patterns, but any one may make a substitute of stiff, white cardboard. Fold a number of square pieces into funnels, fasten with pies.

others large; each should hold two tablespoonsful of icing. A thin, broad knife, a bowl of cold water, sugar, gelantine, cocounut, chocolate, eggs and flavoring will be required, and some fruit coloring is also of use. The time was when the only icing known was that of the white of eggs beaten stiff upon a platter and thickened with pulverized sugar; and perhaps the old way has not been improved upon as re gards looks, but there are cheaper and better tasted icings, warranted not to crack or become sticky.

BOILED ICING. Take one cup of white sugar, two tablespoonfuls of water. Boil until it strings, remove from the fire, and add the white of one egg beaten stiff. Stir all together, flavor, and cover the cake when it becomes cool. GELATINE ICING

One speenful of gelatine, two speensful of water; when clear, add one spoonful of hot water, and one cup of pulverized sugar. Flavor, and best well. When nearly cool spread thickly good when eggs are dear. A caramet eake is very fine but together with the caramel icing, but the layers must all be baked, and everything ready to place together quickly. The icing may be plac- took of a friendly glass and departed still ed over hot water, which will serve to keep it soft. Take one cup of light-brown sugar and two spoonsful of water, a very small spoonful of butter and a few drops of lemon extract. Boil eight minutes, and pour over the cake while hot, spreading CHOCOLATE ICING. Two cups of sugar and just water enough to moisten. Boil until clear; add two cakes of grated chocolate, auone egg beaten stiff; davor with vanilla, and beat until cold. After covering a cake with chocolate icing, have ready a cup of English walnuts, shelled, and ar range them over the top in circles Daisies may be made of raisins, by placing one with seven around it at intervals over the cake. Raisins may be iced, then dried in the oven, and placed upon the chocolate cake, making a contrast. it desired. COLORED ICING,

Pink and white or resebud cake, may be made by icing any white cake with horled icing, to which a few drops of this cannot be obtained, take a pinch of cochinest, add a few drops of boiling water, and when cool, strain, and stir a few drops into the joing. It makes a beautiful pink, and although objectionable to some I have used it with no bad effect. After icing with the pink decorate in waves, dots, or circles, with in this way, and are very beautiful upon birthday cakes. If fruit coloring can be obtained, very handsome roses, with green leaves, may be designed by a skillful worker. SOME OTHER DECORATION.

Grated cocoanut may be sprinkled over a pink or yellow cake. Pretty decorations for a white cake are hearts and diamonds cut from firm current jelly. The decorations for a wedding cake should be, of course, all white. A white cake may be checked with pink chocolate or vellow lines. One thing to remember n this connection is that no amount of decoration will atone for a poor-made. or a pocily baked, cake.

Lime and Clover.

The New England Farmer has a dissertation upon time and clover, from the pen of one of the staff of the Rhode Is land experiment station. This writer claims truly that lime is as important as posset and phosphoric acid in "bringing tire auder " ment to encourage the growth of coner or wine Bhode Ishand soils : but where the is added clover grows a a gordusty as formerly. Some tarmer said cover winter-killed in late years. others averred that the soil had become oner sick, 'without offering any ex flatation as to the cause of clover sickcess. It is well demonstrated, however, that in our grantic, and perhaps some other and where clover once flourished. but will not now, the supply of lime in the soil has been exhausted and what i needs to make it produce clover again. to apply lime. Any one who has clover sick soil can easily test the matter Gypsum, or land-plaster, was once celbrated in Central New York for its beneficial action upon clover, but in lat years it is of so little value that farmer have almost entirely ceased its use; but just as large crops of clover are grown as ever. The fact is, plaster is nearly all carbonate or lime, and so much of it has been used that a large surplus remain in the soil, and, of course, an addition to it is of no benefit to crops. Wood ashes are excellent to apply to clover, but where there is lack of lime in the soil. the thirty-five per cent. of it in the ashes | Drug Store. | Large size bottle 25 cts. does more good than the remainder of

A few days ago a young medical student came suddenly face to face with a dearkind, old, fatherly-looking gentleman of highly respectable appearance.

They both stood transfixed. The same idea flished across both of them.

"Your face is familiar to me—very familiar, but I can's remember where we have met so often."

Ifowever, the friendly impulse was carried out. They shook hands warmly, partook of a friendly glass and departed still ignorant of each other's name and occupation.

It was thought that further trouble in the direction indicated might, to a great extent, be prevented by adopting a system of lotation, which would not allow the too frequent production of the same crop upon any of the cuitivated fields. As a supplement to this method of preventing s continuance of the evil, and as a means of repairing the injury which had already been done, the careful saving and timely application to the soil, not merely of all the stable manure, but of all the manural substances supplied by the farm, was also recommended. As a result of this agitation muck, straw, and other absorbent materials came into extensive use. They were spread in the stables, scatter-

There should be a far more general use of coment floors in the stables, and of sheds for covering the manure after it has been thrown into the yards. Le gumes should be far more largely grown and for many crops commercial fertilizers are needed as a supplement to the farm manure. These changes from the present practice are argently required. They cannot all be made at once, but this should not prevent a resort to whatever means are immediately available for securing the end desired. Among the most efficient of these means, and also among those which are easily within the reach of almost every farmer, is the liberal use of earth, straw, course hay, chaff, or any other comparatively inex-
